STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, JULY 20, 1897.

RELIGIOUS.

The Epworth Leaguers, 20,000 strong, are carrying everything before them at Toronto.

Rev. W. A. Borum has accepted the call of the Baptist church at Somerset and preached his first sermon Sunday.

Dr. J. H. Boyett, of Lexington, arrived yesterday and he and Rev. R. B. Mahony began a protracted meeting at Preachersville last night.

Miss Mary Conover, a young Cloverport lady of good family, has gone off with the salvation army. Her folks claim that she is demented.

After making a fortune out of manufacturing tobacco, Maj. Reynolds, of Bristol, Tenn., has sold out because he has come to the conclusion that the business is wrong.

Neighboring associations will be had this year as follows: South Kentucky at Somerset August 10; South District at Lancaster Aug. 17; Tates' Creek at Berea Aug. 24 and Cumberland River at Ephesus, near Crab Orchard, Aug. 31.

There is a preacher here in Stanford that "mixes" with the people in very near the proper way. In an affectionate way I might say he "is one of the boys." He gets down off the perch of dignity, as it were, where some preachers seem to think they must stiffly sit, and makes even children feel "at home" in his presence. I refer to Elder J. T. Sharrard, pastor of the Christian church. At a picnic here the other day, which all the Sunday-school children attended, a brass band furnished the music and Bro. Sharrard tickled the children wonderfully by assisting the musicians by beating the bass drum and he showed that he could play music as well as preach. A man that takes pleasure in trying to make others happy, in any and every way he can, is the one that is always the most effective preacher, and such a one is Bro. Sharrard.—J. F. W. in Harrodsburg Sayings.

Speaking of James Redoubtable Hindman, as the Louisville Times calls him, the Glasgow News is reminded of what Wm. Stewart, of Adair, once said of him and his fondness for making an address, which he does on the slightest provocation: "When the last shock shall come to bury the nations in one universal heap of ruin; when the pale nations of the dead shall arise and assemble to receive the reward promised the faithful and the cursed from the foundation of the world; when the recording angel shall open the great book of accounts; when peace by the authority of the Creator of heaven and earth shall assume stillness, and the just are awaiting that welcome applaud, 'Well done thou good and faithful servant,' and the wicked that dreaded condemnation, 'Depart from me ye cursed,' down the aisle will come Jim Hindman, in breathless anxiety and suspense for fear that time will be brought to a close without his assistance, and in tones loud enough to drown the sound of Gabriel's trumpet, the crash of dissolving planets and the wreck of worlds will exclaim, 'Check this business and let me make the opening address!'"

Hundreds of people are preparing to leave Seattle for the gold fields in Alaska. It is said the claims now staked out will afford employment for 5,000 men. Wages in the mines are $15 per day. It is declared there is no danger of food giving out. Conservative men think there is room for hundreds more people.

The Negro who outraged and murdered Miss Rene Williams at West Point, Tenn., was captured and taken to the girl's home, where a mob of 500 of the best people in the place stamped him to death and burned his body. The intention was to burn him at the stake, but the mob was too eager.

Charles Delmonico, the present head of the world-famous New York restaurants, is reported ill and demented in Paris. The last preceding proprietor of these renowned eating-houses became insane, wandered off in the hills of New Jersey, and strange irony of fate, starved to death.

Miss Willie Thornell, of Livingston, Ala., robbed herself for the grave, wrote a half dozen farewell letters and then took enough laudanum to kill her. She had quarreled with her mother a few days previous and brooded over it day and night till she took her life.

Woman are now taking a hand in the mining strike by urging their husbands to deeds of violence. Hunger is causing deep mutterings of discontent, and a thousand miners are said to be marching on Cannonsburg. Serious trouble is feared.

A Moscow doctor says that his observations have convinced him that appendicitis is not only a contagious, but sometimes an epidemic disease.

Signor Bumpidipian, otherwise known as Mr. Paderewski, is limiting his income this year strictly to $10,000 per week.

A N. Y. Central train ran from Syracuse to Buffalo, 149 miles, in 137 minutes.

LANCASTER.

Miss Mary Miller will entertain on Thursday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Jennie Portwood, of Lawrenceburg.

Miss Debbie Mae, the attractive daughter of Dr. J. D. Batson, will be married on Wednesday evening at the residence of her uncle, R. H. Batson, to Mr. Presley Simpson Adkerson. The happy pair will be at home at South Boston, Va., after July 25.

Rev. George O. Barnes' meeting will not close before Tuesday night, after which he will go to Owingsville or Winchester. The time of his meeting here was not favorable, on account of the Fair, but much good has been done and his powerful sermons will be long remembered.

The Garrard County Colored Joint Fair Association will be held at the Fair grounds near Lancaster on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 6 and 7. A board of 50 directors from adjoining counties have formed a combination to give one of the largest and most attractive entertainments of the kind ever given in the State. A grand barbecue will also be given on the first day to the different lodges and societies that come out for the $60 prize given to the order which turns out the greatest number, to be enrolled on the grounds. A $30 prize will be given to the best brass band, not less than four contestants. $700 will be given in premiums, including contests and stock shows. Special trains from Cincinnati and Louisville. James Combs, Danville, president; A. Carr, Stanford, vice-president; Frank Lackey, Lancaster, secretary; Wm. King, Lancaster, ass't sec'y.

Our fair now makes another bright page in the history of Garrard county. It has passed and nothing occurred to mar the happiness of any one, the feckir even failing to materialize. The circus did not arrive and we are better off, though some are dissatisfied on that account; but none of our people are to be blamed for its failure to appear. A small crowd was in attendance on Friday on account of the threatening weather, but about 4,000 people were on the grounds Saturday and the friends of the officers and stockholders who labored so hard to make it a success will be glad to learn that they will not lose anything. The show of stock was good and the competition was lively. Lincoln county was better represented, as to people in attendance, than any adjoining county.

Among the distinguished guests were Gov. James B. McCreary, who gave a premium of $50, Col. Craddock, of Paris, who stood in the broiling sun for one hour, waiting for some one to give him the name of one of our beautiful ladies, upon whom he was gazing, while his youthful cheeks were crimson and his eyes sparkled with the deepest admiration. J. S. Owsley, Jr., who is sure to be re-elected Commonwealth's attorney, James Maret, editor of the Mt. Vernon Signal, and that gifted journalist, Joe F. Waters.

William P. Woodcock, of Danville, won the $50 prize for the best shot at live pigeons, killing 19 out of 20. Nicholasville defeated Danville in the match game of base ball, getting $75, while the Danville boys received $25. The score stood 5 to 3.

The following is the list of premiums awarded and names of successful competitors, except those that were declared off in the evening on account of a heavy rain, but which were afterward exhibited and not recorded, as the secretaries had left the grounds:

Two fatal shooting scrapes are reported from Whitley. Walter Byrd, a prominent citizen, while trying to stop a row, was shot and mortally wounded by James Reedy, a young man 19 years old. Reedy is in jail. At Rockhold, Joseph Broyles was waylaid and two loads of buckshot were fired into him. He will probably die. His assailant is unknown, but is thought to be a Negro named Ephraim Jones.

Phil A. Marks, an old and well-known citizen of Danville, died suddenly Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Ball. The death was a great shock to his family, especially to Mrs. Marks, to whom the news was broken by a friend. The deceased came to Danville from the East a great many years ago, and since then had been engaged in the merchant tailoring business. He was about 65 years of age, and besides his wife, who was a Miss Hightower, of Jessamine, leaves six children—Mrs. Joe Flaig, Terre Haute, Ind., Will and John Marks, Louisville, Mrs. George Markoe, Mrs. Chas. Ball, of Danville. Mr. Marks was a member of the Methodist church, a Knight Templar, Odd Fellow and Knight of Pythias. Many persons will learn of his death with deep sorrow and regret.—Advocate.

At Pineville, Joseph Henry Ramsey was granted a divorce from Cora Ramsey, who was formerly Mrs. Thomas H. Stark, of Louisville. It will be remembered that several months ago, the woman left her new husband for the old, after a tragic scene.

William Sterling, a tramp printer, went in Mrs. Jacob's hotel at Rockaway Beach and asked to be permitted to run his fingers over the piano keys. He played some airs. The widow fell in love with him and they'll be married in September. The widow's cash is not a cent less than $200,000, and Billy is helping himself to beer with both hands.

Miss Mary B. Davis, of Louisville, and George C. King, Western agent of the Finzer Brothers' Tobacco Company at St. Louis, were married at San Francisco in less than a week after they first saw each other. They were delegates to the Christian Endeavor Convention and were introduced on the train. The bride is a daughter of the chairman of the republican county committee of Jefferson. It was a genuine case of love at first sight.

Girls, here's a chance for you. Thos. J. Lipton, the immensely wealthy Scotchman who gave $125,000 to the Princess of Wales' Jubilee fund to feast the poor of London, is in New York and wants a wife. Say: "I've always been a great admirer of American women, and that's why I'm beginning my search for a wife here. Money or position has nothing to do with it. I'd as soon marry a poor New York girl as the richest Duchess in London. What I want is a good wife."

LANCASTER FAIR.—The exhibition of stock was unusually good and nearly every ring was hotly contested. Prof. M. D. Hughes, the excellent Lancaster correspondent of the INTERIOR JOURNAL, will go into details, but I want to state that the several hundred Lincoln county people who attended are very complimentary of the exhibition and of the officers of the association. But for the rain and wind storm, which lasted from 4 to 5 o'clock P. M. Saturday, everybody would have gone home happy, but some old cool headed men said they knew the rain knocked out millinery, fine dresses, &c., to the tune of at least $2,500. After the rain an exhibition that beat the world was presented. The young ladies, some of them, were almost drowned and apparently laid dignity aside—they had to, as the occasion demanded it, and with the mud about knee deep, dresses had to go that high to dodge the soil, and they were consequently elevated somewhat. A skiff would have floated beautifully in the Fair ring. The circus didn't get there, but the effects of the rain beat any circus that was ever on the road. The officers of the association deserve all the kind things that can be said about them. Most of the men seemed glad it rained, for the reasons above stated. SRETAU.

It is stated that there are 1,000,000 blind people in the world, or one to every 1,500 inhabitants. Latest reports show 23,000 blind persons in this country, or 870 for each million inhabitants.

The New York "society for the killing of invalid and imbecile persons" may do some good in the world if they are lucky enough to escape other people in the same business.

THE CASH SYSTEM,

Beginning July 1, 1897, believing that it will be more satisfactory to both buyer and seller. No bad debts will accumulate, consequently we can sell goods cheaper. It will take much less capital, our expenses will be less and there is every reason why the cash system will prove satisfactory. We only ask you to try it awhile and if you find it is not to your advantage, we will not kick on your buying from merchants who sell on credit. We are satisfied we can sell you goods from 10 to 25 per cent. cheaper than the credit men and this should certainly be an inducement to you. Very truly,

You may say what you please about "old Billy Breckinridge," but we have arisen to remark that he is making the editorial column of the Lexington Herald one of the most interesting and entertaining in the State. He has the courage of his convictions to a marked degree and expresses his views on current issues in a most outspoken manner. His articles attacking the falsity of Judge Falconer's decision in liberating Harris for the assassination of Merritt are models of good sense and plain interpretation of the law, which is founded on right and justice. He clearly shows that it was not the examining judge's province to discharge the prisoner but plainly his duty to hold him over till the grand jury could investigate and a trial court pass on the crime. There is too much maudlin sentimentality displayed by judges in such cases, and Falconer seems to have capped the climax.

AFTER Jacob Harris had testified how he had caught T. H. Merritt and his wife billing, cooing and kissing and finally saw her get in his lap, while he clasped her in his lecherous arms and the clerk of the Georgetown Hotel had fully identified Mrs. Harris as the woman who spent the night at his hotel June 21, after registering as T. H. Merritt and wife, it didn't take the court at Lexington long to pronounce the accused guilty of no crime in the killing of the man who had broken up his home and he went forth a free man. This is the unwritten law enforced and so will it be to the end. The man who dishonors another man's wife does so almost with the absolute certainty of death if he is discovered.

Go in peace, glorious old Billy Breckinridge! All thy sins are forgiven thee.—Louisville Times. Verily pretty said, but will "Old Billy" absolve the editor of the Times so readily. It was once reported that he had gone to Louisville to make mince meat of the man who couldn't say too many hard things in connection with his connection with the Pollard woman. Politics makes strange bedfellows when Emmet Logan and Billy Breckinridge can pull off and get under the same cover.

THE conference committee on the tariff bill has at last agreed to give the sugar trust nearly all it asked for and its profits under the bill will be enormous. Raw cotton is restored to the free list, cotton bagging is put on the dutiable list and white pine is taxed at the House rate of $2. The existing law as to the internal revenue on tobacco will stand. If the minority consent the bill was to have been reported yesterday.

A CASE of jumping from the frying pan into the fire is developed in the experience of Frank Randolph, formerly probate judge at Montgomery, Ala. He stole the city's money and ran off to the District of Columbia, where he engaged in a broil and killed a man. He was tried last week and sentenced to death, so the cable says. Thus the last end of that man is worse than the first.

"We happened in an editor's office in Lexington yesterday, talking with his charming wife when he came in and we threw up our hands and begged him not to shoot. We had just read of the three husbands who each killed his man." Unfortunately he wasn't shot, however and Col. Craddock lived to tell the tale, as quoted, in his Paris Kentuckian.

KENTUCKY'S credit is pretty good after all. The $500,000 ten year, 4 per cent bonds, authorized by the last Legislature, sold at a premium of $37,350. There were many bidders from outside the State, but the Louisville Fidelity Trust & Vault Co's bid was a little the highest and it secured the entire amount.

HINDMAN, boltoerat nominee for appellate clerk, says that he intends to speak in every county in the State between now and the election. If only boltoerats go to hear him, his audience in some counties will be only himself and another man. But that won't faze him. He will talk if the other man is a dead one.

As his name implies Jim will be the Hindman in the appellate clerk derby and will be mentioned thereafter, if at all, with the "also rans."

THE Frankfort Capital goes for "Bill" Taylor, attorney general, in a way he must despise. "Bill," as it affectionally calls him, has been showing his ignorance of law by suggesting that for this year only the republicans should adopt the boltoerat device and help elect Hindman, a course which would make the republican party lose all claims to legal recognition as it could only go on the ballot again as a new party. "The next time the republicans go to nominate a candidate for attorney-general," says the Capital, "they will provide a civil service examination, or at least insist that he shall read a little law. A party of wild jackasses, or woods colts, would be a glorious improvement on the aggregation of dampfools that is in evidence at this writing." Editor Forrester is the most outspoken editor in the State, but if he doesn't mind some "woods colts," as he calls them, will take his pretty scalp.

LAYING all jokes aside and giving all the devils their due, a careful perusal of the speeches made at the boltoerat convention last week shows that of Mr. Watterson to be the best of them all. We do not agree with the Hon. Henri, as much as we once did, but we are forced to admire his bright oratorical genius, whether displayed on the tripod or on the rostrum. With all his faults we love him still and pray that he will soon see the error of his way and fall in with the offers of mercy before it is too late. We had rather see 99 sinners go to the devil than for one good man to go wrong.

HONORS and good fortune are coming thick and fast to Sam J. Shackelford. He is not only going to be elected appellate clerk over boltoerats, republicans and what nots by 25,000 plurality, but he is going to take a wife. His engagement to Miss Mari Amner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Beriah Magoffin, of Duluth, Minn., is announced to take place early this Fall. She is a grand-daughter of Gov. Magoffin and is described as a lady of rare beauty and accomplishments. Shack's 250,000 friends in Kentucky rejoice at his good fortune and will vote to give him more.

In a column editorial yesterday the Courier-Journal advises us not to be so cock-sure of the election of Shackelford or of anything else in these turbid political times and says stranger things have happened than the election of Hindman. To be sure. For instance the election of Grover Cleveland, after our prophetic friend had said he could not be and that his nomination was like walking from a charnel house into an open grave. But of this more anon, when we have more time and more space.

"If wheat goes to a dollar and corn to 75 cents, where will the INTERIOR JOURNAL be?" asks the Courier-Journal and answers its own interrogatory by saying, "It will be nowhere. There's where it will be." Wrong as usual. On the contrary the I. J. will be dead in it, to use a slangy phrase. All our moneyless subscribers can then pay up and we can sing peans with the Courier-Journal to the beauties (?) of a high protective tariff. But we do not expect to have to sing by a long shot.

THE way the Warren county teachers went after the State republican administration is a plenty. At the Institute held there last week resolutions disapproving the management of public affairs were adopted and the suggestion made that if less money were spent for furnishing military escorts for criminals who when convicted by the courts are liberated by the executive, the ends of good government would be better attained and there would be more funds for the public schools.

AFTER a man had taken a drink of whisky in Joplin, Mo., and had refused to pay for it, the bartender shot him dead with a revolver. Had he waited and given the whisky time to act the bartender might not now be in jail. Missouri rotgut is warranted to kill about as quickly as powder and lead.

THE Louisville Dispatch has taken the first step towards fame. A libel suit for $50,000 has been entered against it. A newspaper can't be said to be a newspaper until it has beaten several libel suits.

POLITICS

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee has entered the race to succeed Senator Daniels in Virginia.

A PICTURE of a former colored citizen of Stanford appeared in Saturday's Louisville Post. It was that of J. H. Butcher, a mail carrier in the city. He is a brother of Mrs. Mollie Givens Patterson and is a worthy representative of his race.

THE Nicholasville Journal's Wilmore correspondent says: Messrs. F. M. Ware, of McKinney, and F. M. Flenner, of Lexington, have bought of L. H. Willis, assignee of George K. Curd, the latter's stock of goods and will continue the business at the old stand.

At a meeting of the directors of Buffalo Cemetery Saturday Judge J. W. Alcorn was elected director in the place of Squire J. S. Murphy, who resigned, and Mr. Forestus Reid was chosen in the place of his father-in-law, Mr. H. S. Withers, deceased. Mr. J. J. McRoberts was made treasurer—the office which Mr. Withers held for years.

GERMAN.—There will be a full dress German at Crab Orchard Springs Wednesday night, in which some of the best dancers of Central Kentucky will take part. Mr. E. H. Jennings, of Danville, will lead it and at the proper hour, mine host Gus Hofmann will spread an elegant repast. There are 50-odd guests at the Springs now and a large crowd due the last of the week.

It looks very much like Boss Davison is going to hold up the appointment of a postmaster at Crab Orchard until after the election. Somebody's going to get mad, no matter who gets the plum, and the gray gelding wants to hold 'em all in line as long as possible. Mr. W. A. Carson's term expired last month, and while he doesn't object to holding the office, it is by no request of his that he is held in.

WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER.—No. 24 killed a cow just beyond Paxton's summit Saturday and Engineer Farrar says that he killed two on the round-trip. Mr. H. G. Johnson, adjuster of damages to stock, popularly known as the cow coroner, tells us that an average of 300 animals is killed monthly on the Knoxville division of the L. & N. He is being more and more impressed that people turn their stock on the road to get them killed for the purpose of getting more than they are worth out of the company, which pays from $30 to $40 a head for cows killed, worth really less than $20.

TABLETS and school books, better and cheaper than ever. Penny's Drug Store.

THE weather is pleasant and with an occasional shower is all that the corn grower could wish. Local thunder storms to-night and Tuesday, is the way the prediction read yesterday.

FOR the 'steenth time it is announced by telegram that there will be no fair at Danville this year. Well, let it go at that this time. There is no long felt want that needs filling by a fair at any place.

THE telephone instrument having been struck by lightning several times before it was put in here, conversation with Liberty was rather difficult, so yesterday Dr. Ed M. Estes, one of the owners of the line, was here and put in a new one.

FINDING that his houses at Rowland did not pay even so much as the taxes on them, Mr. B. P. Martin is moving them to his lots on the Somerset pike, near town, and putting them up there. He has already moved three and has two more, including a brick house, to move. We hope he will be liberally paid for his enterprise.

CHANGE OF FIRM.—J. L. & E. J. Tanner have bought of V. M. Tanner his interest in the stock of general merchandise at McKinney, and will still run the business under the firm name of Tanner Bros. In order to change the business to strictly cash they offer special bargains in every department. Persons owing the old firm will please come forward and settle soon as possible. Respt., Tanner Bros.

ROWLAND people tell us the post-office matter is all in a muddle there from the fact that Boss Davison signed each of the petitions of Miss Kate White, G. W. Goodrich and John Murphy to be postmaster and then recommended F. Cordier for the office. Each has sent his bond to Washington and each is expecting to lick stamps for the next four years. There is also a row over where the office shall be located. If Mr. Cordier gets the office he will have it at his photograph gallery in this end of town but protests are being signed against such action as nearly all the patrons of the office live in Needmore, the lower end, and more than half a mile from Cordier's. Meantime Judge Shelton holds on and will till the muddle is settled.

MADE HIM PONY UP.—Those of our readers who were here at court Monday remember the noisy, long-haired medicine man who took "Dr." Anderson Carr's crowd from him and who gulled a good many of our citizens, who had more money than brains. Well, the doctor, whose name is M. F. Chamberlin, and who claims to live at Lexington, left town without paying his license of $6. He made pretty promises to pay it, but wanted a little time which was accorded him and he afterward sneaked off. Marshal O. J. Newland heard that he was at the Lancaster fair and on Saturday morning he went thither. The doctor was there by a large majority and when the officer stated his business the former laughed at him. Such things don't bluff "Brother" though, and when he told Chamberlin that he must either pay over $12, which included besides the license, his expense of arrest, buggy hire, &c., or return with him to Stanford, he weakened and offered his check for the amount. This Mr. Newland accepted, but to make assurance doubly sure he made the doctor give him his watch to hold till it was paid. Chamberlin was badly taken down and while he may work other towns, it's dollars to doughnuts that he will not try his game on Stanford again. Anderson Carr tells us that the officers require him to pay his license in advance and he can not see, nor can we, any reason why a stranger should be shown partiality.

THE N. Y. Herald shows by reports of various sources that the number of executions in the State of New York has increased 200 per cent per annum since the method of capital punishment was changed from hanging to electrocution in 1890.

Gov. Bradley reviewed the Second Regiment at the Fountain Ferry camp Sunday. Five thousand people were at the park to see the parade. The governor was kept busy dodging the kodaks aimed at his unwhiskered face.

The L. & N. filed suit at Nashville to enjoin the ticket scalpers from buying or selling certain railroad tickets.

IDOL.—The horrible news of the burning to death of Mrs. P. H. Idol at Lexington Sunday night reached here yesterday morning and created much sorrow among scores to whom she was well known. Mr. Sim A. Middleton, of this county, who happened to be in the city and was spending the night at a friend's on the opposite side of the street, was attracted by her screams and ran over to find that a lamp had exploded, so frightfully burning her, that she died a few hours later. She was the oldest child of John M. and Mrs. Mattie White of this county, and she leaves besides her husband, four children, the youngest a two-months old baby.

The Herald's account is as follows: About 9 o'clock last night Mrs. Idol started down the stairs with one of her children in her arms. Her sister, Miss Mamie White, who was visiting at her home, followed close behind, carrying a lamp. The lamp slipped from her hands, and falling, broke at Mrs. Idol's feet, scattering the oil over the stairs. Almost instantly she was completely enveloped in the flames. She ran down the steps and into a room, where she threw herself upon a bed and tried to wrap the bed clothing about her, but the covers also took fire, and before anything could be done she had been burned to almost an unrecognizable condition. The burns covered the entire body, with the exception of the upper part of the face. The flesh on parts of the body was cooked to the bone and presented a horrible sight to look upon.

The suffering of the poor woman was agonizing. None but the strongest could remain in the room where she was, and her groans and screams rent the hearts of those outside. The physicians seemed unable to do anything to relieve her terrible suffering, and could hardly restrain her in her frantic pain from tearing away the charred flesh that caused her unbearable torture. At the suggestion of physicians she was taken to the Protestant Infirmary, but she died shortly afterwards.

The grief of the sister was most pitiable. She blames herself for the accident. After doing all she could and viewing the quivering form, she covered her face with her hands to hide her sobs of grief and left the room, being unable longer to bear the sight. The child Mrs. Idol was carrying was badly blistered about the legs, but the little fellow seemed to be crying more for the suffering mother than for any pain of its own. Mr. Idol is in New York State on a business trip, and was immediately telegraphed for, although it is doubtful whether the telegram would reach him. It will be remembered Mr. Idol met with a very distressing accident last spring by the discharge of his gun while hunting, which resulted in the amputation of his arm.

It is supposed that the remains will be brought here for interment to-day, but when Mrs. J. E. Portman went out to Mr. White's yesterday to ascertain the hour, she found that all the family had gone to Lexington.

A Cincinnati sculptor writes with reference to Hart's statue of Woman Triumphant: "I would like to undertake the reproduction of this model. I do not hesitate to affirm my ability to accomplish the task, full of subtle difficulties though it must prove."

Superior Disc Drill.

McKinney, Ky., Apr. 22, '97.
MESSRS. HIGGINS & McKINNEY—Dear Sirs—I purchased one of your Superior Disc Drills in the Fall of 1896 and sowed 100 acres of wheat with it. I found it to be one of the best machines I ever used. It is far superior to all other drills. I would not undertake to sow a crop without one, for there is no chinking up and getting out of order with them. They do their work perfectly and with light draft. The grass seeder is also a great improvement over other drills, for the grass seeder attachment can be used without using the wheat attachment. I recently sold a half interest to my neighbor, J. A. Givens, and he has been sowing oats and grass seed with it and is so well pleased with it that he carries it to shelter every night. Yours truly, J. L. BECK.

LETTER FROM A MORMON.

To the Editor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL.

MILLEDGEVILLE, July 17.—Thinking perhaps a few lines from my pen may be of interest to many of my acquaintances who are readers of your valuable paper, I take pleasure in submitting you the following: No doubt you will remember myself and Elder Chas. A. Cobbley calling at your office last October 17th; also securing permission of the jailer to hold meetings in the court-house, which we did for two days. Since that time we have been traveling in Lincoln county disseminating the true principles of Mormonism; so-called. During our labors we found the people of Lincoln county, as a majority, fair minded, honest hearted and unsectarian in their views of Christ's principles, as much so as any of the people of the Blue-Grass State.

Truly can we say with few exceptions, that they are willing to apply Luke 6:31, "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them;" also I Thess. 5:21, "Prove all things hold fast that which is good." On several occasions we have read sketches in your paper from some of your correspondents which usually gave us justice. Many of the people think that we are the first Latter Day Saints elders who have been in Kentucky, because perchance we are the first to preach in Lincoln county; but we have had a regularly organized conference in Kentucky for the last 15 or 20 years.

In Metcalf county we have a flourishing branch of about 75 members who have recently built them a beautiful church house, which is to be dedicated at our State conference, which convenes on 7th and 8th of August next, at which all the elders will be present, also members from other parts of the State, with many of their friends and neighbors. A standing invitation is also extended to any one and all who can spare the time to come, witness and partake of the truths that will be presented. They then will be able to judge fairly the merits of the doctrines they hear. We have traveled nearly all over Lincoln county and have many friends, too numerous to mention in name, who will never be forgotten for the Christian kindness they have shown us.

Where we have traveled this Spring and Summer, prospects are, so far, favorable for a bountiful harvest in the coming autumn. In many localities the golden cereal is already being hulled by the hum of the separator, which cheers the hearts of farmers as they listen to the threshing of their winter's sustenance. Yours Truly,

D. J. BLAKE AND J. W. JANSON.

Rev. Thomas B. Couchman, a Methodist preacher from Wheatley, Ind., went to Louisville and had a high old time. He started his lark by going to Bierod's free variety show. There he met Sadie Berchall and Rosie Opley, in red shirt waists, tan shoes and a regular up-to-date sporty costume. The preacher and the "girls" enjoyed the show and had a number of drinks. They left the hall and visited several other resorts. The parson set a pretty hot pace, but it was none too warm for his female companions. At 2 o'clock the parson wound up drunk and realized when he sobered up that he had been robbed of most of his clothing and $25. He called for the police, but all they could do was to run him in. He will hardly go slumming again.

A person with a considerable amount of spare time on his hands has collected the following list of words which may be spelled forward or backward—palindromes, as they are called in learned language: Anna, bab, bib, bob, bub, civic, dad, deed, deified, dewed, did, ecce, eve, ewe, eye, gag, gag, level, madam, noon, otto, pap, peep, pip, pop, pup, redder, refer, repaper, reviver, rotator, sees, shahs, tat, tit, toot, tot and tut.

88 TO CHICAGO AND RETURN.—The Monon Route will sell tickets Wednesday, July 21, from Louisville to Chicago and return at $8, being one fare for the round trip. Tickets will be good returning until July 26. The rate is incident to the unveiling of the Logan Monument in Chicago July 22. Full particulars will be furnished on application at Monon City Ticket Office or by addressing E. H. Bacon, District Passenger Agent, Louisville, Ky.

"Who was the mother of Moses?" asked the Sunday-school teacher. "Pharaoh's daughter," responded the brightest of her boys. "Oh, no," said the teacher; "she only found him in the bulrushes." "Yes," replied Young America, "that's what SHE said."

Teheran, Persia, is to have a telephone exchange and a New York house is to supply the instruments. They will have to be carried 800 miles on the backs of mules to get to their destination after landing at Bushire.

"Last summer one of our grand-children was sick with a severe bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Fredericktown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by Craig & Hocker, Drugists, Stanford, Ky.

Something to Depend on.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with La Grippe and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Jena could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and seeing lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at W. B. McRobert's Drug Store.

TO THE PUBLIC!

Of Lincoln and Garrard.

Owing to the wet weather last year most all of the wheat in the country was damaged, and to do our customers justice we had to grind it for them in order to hold our custom, and also for others who were customers of other mills which would not accommodate their old customers, and as they have good wheat this year we think they ought to patronize us as others would not accommodate them last year. Our flour this year will give the best of satisfaction and we will guarantee it to all, as we have new cloths in our mills. Thanks for past favors. We are Very Respectfully Yours.
